

CREATING A BEER-CLEAN GLASS AT HOME

- Start with a clean glass, preferably dry.
- Rinse under faucet with warm water.
- Sprinkle one teaspoon of salt, covering inside and bottom of glass.

- Thoroughly scrub inside of glass with a clean brush, including bottom.
- Rinse out all salt with fresh, cold water.

Allow glass to dry upside down on a wire rack or deeply corrugated, free-draining surface.

With a “beer-ready” glass, you know you’re enjoying the fresh, true taste of your beer, with no film, odors or bacteria that can adhere to the glass and cause an off-taste.
